MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: White House Meeting on Foreign Relations Committee
Amendments to State Authorization Bill

1. This afternoon I attended a meeting in the White House called by William Timmons, Assistant to the President for Congressional Relations, to discuss a number of legislative matters of concern to the Administration. As it happened, Timmons was tied up on the Hill and the meeting was chaired by Tom Korologos, Deputy Assistant to the President. Also present were John Lehman, of Kissinger's staff, Rady Johnson, Assistant Secretary of Defense for Congressional Relations, Marshall Wright, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Congressional Relations, and Charles Ablard, General Counsel for USIA.

2. The first part of the meeting involved discussion of Administration strategy in fighting the "end the war" legislation and the "withdrawal by date certain" resolution.

3. The meeting then turned to a discussion of some 16 amendments to the authorization bill for State, USIA, ACDA, and the Peace Corps proposed by the Foreign Relations Committee. Two of these were of primary concern to the Agency:

a. A proposal by Senator Fulbright requiring a 10% cut in all non-State Department personnel stationed abroad other than members of military units and the Peace Corps.

b. A proposal by Senator Church prohibiting Government agencies from participating in any information activities "for, on behalf of, or in the name of any foreign government" and requiring that any information prepared by a Government agency for dissemination abroad "indicate clearly...the name of the Government agency which prepared or assisted in preparing the information." The amendment goes on to define dissemination as "publication, broadcasting, and telecasting."

CONFIDENTIAL

4. The meeting concluded with agreement that the participants would meet again on Friday, 21 April, at which time each representative would bring a list of the problems which the amendments created for his agency, together with an unclassified "talking paper" containing an explanation of these problems and a recommendation for dealing with them--either by deletion or amendment. On 3a above it was agreed that the CIA contribution should be submitted to Marshall Wright, of State, who would integrate our material with that of the other agencies involved. It was agreed that we would coordinate our CIA contribution on 3b above with Charles Ablard, of USIA, or Eugene Kopp, his Deputy, and that our joint recommendation be submitted to Marshall Wright, of State.

5. It is my understanding that the "talking papers" called for would be suitable for use in open debate on the floor or for passing to members of the Congress who might be interested. Regarding the above matters which concern the Agency, I think it was desired that we submit classified "backup" papers going into more detail which could be used in discussion with individual members on an "off-the-record" basis.
